LATE EASTERN NEWS

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

NEW YORK Sept 5 The Union Pacific Road at a regular meeting of the Board of Directors this week voted $3[illegible] of the first mortgage bonds to be laid aside in trust as pledged to spend on the culverts bridges etc of already accepted parts of the road. The Directors agree upon a contract with Mr B[illegible] of Chicago for the superstruction of an iron bridge over the Missouri river between Omaha and Council Bluffs. The bridge is to cost a million and a half of dollars, probably two millions with the approaches on the Council Bluff side. All the railroads centring at Council Bluffs are to cross over it the Rock Island [illegible] paying toll for their trade

LIBEL SUIT

BOSTON Sept [illegible] Frank Leslie of New York has sued the proprietor of the Boston [illegible] for libel claiming damages of $[illegible],000. The [illegible] a paragraph stated that Leslie had arrived at Richfield Springs with a lady and two first class horses and it is by the prosecutor that this paragraph intimated improper relations between the lady and himself

THE ROSECRANS LEE CORRESPONDENCE

WASHINGTON D C Sept 5—The publication of the correspondence between Lee and Rosecrans to day surprised everybody here except the few in the secret because it was a matter of general knowledge that General Rosecrans stated positively on the night of his arrival from White Sulphur that there was no such address as the newspapers had reported and no such correspondence. He was very clear and decided in his denial of both these points and yet his own letter to Lee and Lee's reply bear date of August 26th two days before he denied their existence. He did intimate that at some future time he might prepare a statement of what he heard from the Southern leaders. One explanation of this conduct given in political circles is that on Rosecrans' arrival here the move was looked upon as a failure and it was then thought best to suppress the document

KU KLUX OPERATIONS

NASHVILLE Sept 6—The Ku Klux have commenced operations in a new line for the sake of manufacturing political capital North. They disguise themselves as black men commit all sorts of robberies murders and rapes and then get the Banner, their infamous organ in this city to publish the details under the head of negro outrages. More than one case of this kind has recently occurred

POOR McCLERNAND'S BLUNDER

SPRINGFIELD (Ill) Sept 5—The mistake made by General McClernand in giving publicity to Pendleton's dispatch declining to fill his appointment in this State has created much confusion among the Democrats in this section inasmuch as it has forced Pendleton to leave Ohio at a very critical time. The Democracy of Ohio are very sore over the necessity thus made by the blunder of General McClernand. Pendleton might have known into what hands his telegram was going. The Democracy have thus admitted their weakness in this State as well as Ohio

Wendell Phillips on Thaddeus Stevens

A WARM APPRECIATION

It was this old and long familiarity with the whole question which prevented the war from taking him unawares or putting him to school for a policy. All these to other men new problems had been to him subjects of patient thought and earnest discussion years before. He met rebellion fully prepared for all its issues. This explains not only the promptness of his decision but the sympathetic consistency of his whole course. His war record is all of a piece no hesitation no going forward or back. He saw the whole epoch in its germ and the end from the beginning

He believed in doing what you saw to be right not in bringing your action down to the level of the thousand blind men and the ten thousand selfish ones who hang on your skirts meaning to steal repute from associating with you at the same time crippling your action enough to save their own fears and their own interests. Such men were the load that his energy took up and carried through the war. And now such men presume to criticise his tireless activity and strenuous leadership

Other causes Anti Masonry for instance had a share in his life. But the question which won him from the courts into politics and the one for which he lived was the abolition of American slavery. Every drop of his blood was hot for liberty. Everything that crippled or endangered liberty was his foe

When we saw him at Lancaster in December 1857 he had decided for his health's sake and to recruit his neglected estate to retire from political life and devote himself to his profession wholly a prudent resolve which the bugle note of rebellion scattered to the winds

During the whole war we remember no single instance in which his sagacity was at fault. He saw Lincoln in his merits and his defects as clearly as any American. He led the nation and Congress on all the war measures. And if we outlive this present peril and ride safely into another administration loyal and Northern his policy of impeachment will be one great source of our safety. The South longs to bully and overawe and Mr Johnson would gladly help it in its purpose to make intrigue eke out weakness

But that grave at Lancaster reminds all the rebel herd of a purpose which one brave soul planted in the nation's heart and even yet the finger of Thaddeus Stevens affrights the whites into submission. Long may the effect endure! Long may the old man rule our spirits from his urn!

Why Seymour had an Officer Suspended From Duty

[From the Newburg (N Y) Journal Aug 31]

An officer in one of our State regiments was astonished one day while in the field by the receipt of an order direct from the War Department, suspending him from duty. Repairing to Washington he was shown a letter from Horatio Seymour then Governor of the State asking for the suspension as a personal favor. Coming on from Washington to Albany he sought a personal interview with the Governor for the purpose of learning the cause of this extraordinary request. But the Governor put him off from day to day with the pretext of engaged until finally the suspended officer thought His Excellency had played with him long enough and entered his presence unannounced and without leave. He then politely requested to be informed of the charges which had induced the Governor to make so remarkable a request from the War Department. After coloring and stammering for a few moments in conscious shame Gov Horatio Seymour the great Democratic statesman of the nineteenth century asked his visitor if he had not in a private letter written without the remotest idea of influencing any one against the Governor spoken of him as a Copperhead!

Relieved to find the charge so frivolous—indignant that the Governor of the State of New York should have been guilty of such petty spleen the officer admitting the charge and suggesting that if all soldiers who call him a Copperhead were to be suspended the army would soon become a mere skeleton, he turned on his heel and left the great statesman. As soon as the facts could be properly brought to the attention of the Washington authorities the officer was restored to his position and served through the war

Charles Seymour of the LaCrosse Republican who is one of the greatest wags out of Congress had a big banner painted "Vermont goes 19 000 better" and strung it across the street from his office to Epperson's Block. The Democracy in torch light procession escorting the renegade Doolittle through the streets of LaCrosse was obliged to pass under this banner. As they did so, Doolittle lifted up his voice and wept.

Southern Sentiment

[From the New York Commercial Advertiser]

How Southern Democrats are submitting to the political situation and cultivating the arts of peace may be understood by reference to the sentiments uttered by some of them. Governor Seymour ought to be cheered by signs like these

Col Slayback in a speech at St Joseph Mo said that by the election of the Democratic ticket the gallant sons of the South would gain what they fought for without the sacrifice of a single principle

Judge Jones at a ratification meeting in Mobile deplored the loss of the Southern cause but [illegible] that [illegible] Providence the Democratic party under the leadership of Seymour and Blair will re establish the [illegible] principles

The Mobile Herald [illegible] takes up the refrain of Wade Hampton's speech in this city and says that Texas Virginia and Mississippi must vote and that the Democracy will see that the votes is counted

The Mobile Tribune thinks that the dagger of Brutus may aid in accomplishing Southern redemption. It has tried the pistol and now it reaches out after the knife. And the Register of the same city with thirsty eagerness thinks that more blood letting is necessary to complete the counter revolution

Then we have all sorts of sentiments in regard to the negroes. The Meriden (Miss) Mercury says

With the skull and cross bones of the lost cause before us we will swear that this is a white man's Government. We must make the negro understand we are the men we were when we held him in abject bondage and make him feel that when forbearance ceases to be a virtue he has aroused a power that will control him or destroy him

The negro is to be killed if his vote cannot be controlled. He is a sound thing in a Democratic Club but a hated enemy if he is a Republican

Blair's letter is a capital text for these submissive people. The St Louis Times put the argument into the following shape

There is but one way to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare these reconstruction acts null and void, compel the army to undo its usurpations at the South, disperse the carpet bag State Governments allow the white people to organize their own Governments and elect Senators and Representatives

And Semmes rises up his place and declares that he has given his allegiance to the old flag provided the old flag covers his notion of the Constitution

Gen Lawton comes to the front in Savannah and remarks

"Now for the first time, we have a platform of principles and leaders around whom we could rally. It was the noblest, best and boldest declaration of principles ever laid down in the United States and the demonstration to-night shows that it was in unison with the feelings of the people. There was nothing that the South wanted that was not there. The military despotism which had held us in thralldom was there set in its proper light. For the first time we have a platform we can adhere to. We have work to do which can be accomplished. We have leaders to represent those principle who will carry us out of the slough of despond. Peace has its victories as well as war. Those great principles for which we fought and which we feared were lost may yet be achieved

So through Seymour and Blair the South is to have its own again, and the principles that underlaid the Great Rebellion are to be placed on a solid enduring foundation

The Democratic Convention of Georgia hails the march of the Democratic party to the rescue of the "rebels of Georgia" who it says need not submit to the Federal authority

To these loud voices of the South is added the milder peep of the World which observed that "since our Convention the Republicans understand that the Democratic party is thoroughly in earnest and is determined to bring this reconstruction business to an immediate crisis

These are short and pertinent statements. They show what the South is aiming at. They are the old utterances of 1860, translated into the language of 1868 and backed up now as then by the leaders of Democratic sentiment in the North. They indicate plainly to what end this will lead. They are not mere sound and fury signifying nothing. They have a meaning and express purpose. How far the South is willing to carry out its plans the events of the late war indicate

THE CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK.—The strongest Republican county in New York is St Lawrence. She is considered good always for seven thousand majority. But this year she proposes to outdo all former efforts. The Ogdensburg Journal says

Every day we hear of accessions to the Republican ranks in St Lawrence county. The changes are not confined to any single locality or cases but are occurring in most of the towns. Every day or two some gentleman formerly of the Democratic persuasion, signifies to us his intention of voting for Grant and Colfax. Old men, eighty years old, young men of twenty-five and middle-aged men business men farmers, mechanics agents clerks and laboring men. None of these men put their determination to so vote upon a change of heart, or love for Republican principles but upon the deep and earnest conviction that the election of General Grant is absolutely necessary for the peace and welfare of the country. They say "We love our country as well as you do. We have tried Grant through ordeal and crucible and know he is true and safe and cannot vote against him." This is a plain, unvarnished statement of what is transpiring in Ogdensburg, Oswegatchie Lisbon Waddington, Depeyster Gouverneur Canton and other sections of the county. It commenced with occasional waverings by single individuals,—it now numbers scores, and will increase to hundreds

A COMPLIMENT FOR KILPATRICK —We find the following in the Marysville (Cal) Appeal

In a late letter from a Valparaiso gentleman to a resident of this city we find the following compliment to General Kilpatrick. There was rather a laughable thing which came off here last Fall at the office of the American Consul. At the Fall races General Kilpatrick and the counsul were out to see the sport on horseback and a party of Englishmen noticed the General's riding and as one of them was interested in a race to come off he went to the Consul's office the next day and asked if that young chap lived there who accompanied the Consul to the races on such a day. He was informed that that chap lived at Santiago. "Well" said Johnny Bull "I have a race coming off in a few days do you think I could get that fellow to ride my horse? I'll give him $10 and pay his expenses." "Well I don't know" said the Consul "but if you write to him he'll answer you." "Well I'll write to him," said the Englishman "what's his name?" The Consul handed him Kilpatrick's card with his full title when the Britisher looked astounded [illegible] turning on his heel went away [illegible] [illegible] the best rider he ever [illegible]

Brick Pomeroy says that the New York Democrats [illegible] Pendleton [illegible] speak in New York city as he passed through recently. He says "Mr Pendleton's paper money ideas were antagonistic to the interests of the Rothschilds and their agents here, and it would not do for him to speak in this Democratic city."

STATE ITEMS.

The Upper Wallamet is lower by six or eight inches than it was ever before known

The Salem paper says Salem is still marching on in the respect of improvements. There are many residences going up in all parts of the town. The carpenters have more work than they can do

The presence of the Legislature at the Capital gives a good run of local items. The following from the Unionist is a sample: "Yesterday some urchins tore up the sidewalk east of the [illegible] office and neglected to re drive the nails. A Democratic member of the Legislature was going along and stubbed his toe, nearly measuring his length which were about six feet, on the side walk. After righting himself he hurled [illegible] anathemas at it to have sunk the nails entirely through the plank if they had only hit."

Approved Democratic Patriots

It is a curious study to inquire what manner of men they are who are now struggling to obtain control of national affairs. A party Convention met in New York in July, and issued an address asking the people to trust them with the helm of the country. They went further than this, and, claiming that they were the only party which could administer the Government on correct and safe principles, demanded that they should be put in power.

Look at the list of Democratic platform makers, and see how much patriotism can be expected from such a source, how much loyal sentiment from such a parentage. The controlling spirits in the Convention were from the South. Of rebel Generals there were in that assembly no less than sixteen who had distinguished themselves by trying to overturn the Government which they are now telling those who defeated their efforts how to preserve. In the same Convention there were nine rebel Colonels, one Major, three Captains, and a large number of small fry. Hampton was there, and was the boss architect of the platform,—quite as good a Democrat still as when he demanded to have the black flag raised and Union prisoners shot. Forrest the guerrilla was there, with the honors won at the Fort Pillow massacre sitting proudly on him among his brother Democrats. Ould was there, under whose charge the horrors of the Libby and Andersonville prisons had been promoted and aggravated. Buckner was there, the man who had vainly endeavored to uphold Democratic principles at Fort Donelson. Preston who fought for some time for the "white man's government," and then left to fit out a piratical craft in Europe, Gordon of Georgia, Bonham, an original seceder and rebel from South Carolina, Kershaw from the same State, who rose above his peers in cruelty to Union prisoners. Clanton of Alabama, who united the kindred duties of a rebel General and Democratic State Committeeman, Holtzclaw of Alabama, who was in almost every Western battle against the Union; Cox of North Carolina; Hoke and Ransom from the same State, and Beauregard, who began the war by firing on Fort Sumter. All these and more came flocking. There was Colonel Gibson of Morgan's troop of [illegible] murderers; Colonel and Governor Vance of North Carolina, who, during the war was going to "fill hell full of Yankees," and who, after returning home from the New York Convention declared that "the South would gain by the election of Seymour and Blair all it fought for in the war." About one hundred, all told, of this class of patriots were in attendance at the Convention, many of them as delegates, and all seeking to mould the future of the country. They went home proclaiming extreme satisfaction over their success, and their Northern allies who follow their lead tell us that they are the very men into whose hands the control of the country should be given; the men who are best qualified to preserve the Union, to maintain the Constitution and to assure peace and safety to the nation! And they tell us that the only way to firmly establish the Union, save the Constitution and preserve the liberties of the people, is to defeat Grant and follow the advice of those tried, experienced and approved Democratic leaders, Hampton, Beauregard, Forrest and Vance.

The [illegible] Administration at Washington City supports Seymour and Blair. The President, his Secretaries and all their underlings are working zealously for the Copperhead candidates. This Copperhead Administration some months ago sent in its estimates and demanded that three hundred and seventy-two millions should be appropriated by the Republican Congress to carry on the Government for the present fiscal year. The Committee on Appropriations examined and scrutinized those estimates, and they cut them down to two hundred and ninety-two millions, thus making a saving of eighty-two millions to the people in one year, by a Republican Congress.

VERY DESPONDENT.—A dispatch from New York to the Chicago Tribune, dated September 7th, says: "A newspaper correspondent writes that during a stage coach ride in Virginia, recently, General Lee stated that unless the Democracy were successful in the Presidential election the country would be ruined." Unfortunate, despondent General Lee! He sees no hope for the Lost Cause except in the success of the Democracy, so his patriotic heart is wrung with the most gloomy forebodings.

For three years every Democratic paper in the State has been declaring that bonds ought to be taxed. Now, why don't our Democratic Legislature pass a law to tax them? This thing of Democrats saying they are in favor of taxing bonds, and, having the power to do it, refusing to pass a law to tax them, simply proves the proposition to cheat and its advocates barefaced demagogues seeking to catch "gudgeons."

FROM THE CAPITAL

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Oregon Legislature.

SALEM, Sept. 24.—In the House Bellinger, Ryan and Garrett, were appointed the special committee to examine into the condition of the School and School Land Commissioner's accounts. Bellinger presented a petition from Yaquina for a law for the protection of oyster beds. Chapman introduced a bill to tax and regulate Chinamen and to prevent their employment upon public works. It requires every Chinaman to take out an employment license each month, paying therefor $10. Persons employing Chinamen who have not a license, are liable to pay the Chinamen's tax. Ships bringing Chinese immigrants must pay ten dollars per head before landing them, a heavy penalty for violation. No officer shall administer the oath of naturalization to any Chinaman, under heavy penalty and disqualification to hold office. No visiting Chinamen are allowed to land without a certificate with the great seal of the Chinese Emperor.

The rules of the House were amended and two committees added to the list—the Committees on Railroads and Public Buildings. Several bills were introduced and read first time. Cox introduced a bill appropriating $12,000 to pay the expenses of the Legislative Assembly; read three several times and passed.

Cox introduced a bill to change the mode of voting from viva voce to ballot. The Judiciary Committee was instructed to inquire into the expediency of reducing the fees of officers. In the Senate the House bill to give additional protection to fair grounds was read twice and referred to Committee on Corporations.

The Senate concurred in the joint resolution asking the Governor for information concerning the Caruthers estate and the suit between the State and claimants. Crawford presented a petition for an additional 2 mills tax for school purposes.

Mr. Steel presented a remonstrance against the vacation of Oregon City charter.

LETTERS FROM THE CAPITAL

SALEM, Wednesday, Sept. 23d, 1868.

IN THE HOUSE—PETITIONS.

This morning, Mr. Alexander of Benton county, presented a petition from citizens of his county asking that a memorial to Congress be adopted, asking for national aid for a railroad from Corvallis to Yaquina Bay.

Mr. Chapman presented a petition from citizens of Portland and Multnomah county praying for a law to consolidate the city and county governments. The petition was signed by two hundred and sixty names, and Col. Chapman, in the course of his remarks, on a motion to refer the petition, stated that he had information to the effect that other petitions containing the names of nearly all the voters of Portland would soon follow. He moved to refer the petition to a special committee consisting of the representatives of Multnomah county. He does not think the petition ought to be granted, nor that, though the language of the petition would imply as much, the people whose signatures are attached want the limits of the city enlarged so as to be co-extensive with the county limits, nor that, on the other hand they want the county boundaries contracted, so as to include only the city. He thinks that the great and only real want of the petitioners is a reduction of the taxes necessary to carry on their city and county governments. The granting of the petition he said, involved the one or the other of the above propositions and he doubted if the petitioners had thought of that seriously. He did not believe they would consent to the enlargement of the city limits or the contraction of the county limits. If, as he thought, their chief purpose were to effect a reduction of the present burden of taxation, their prayer could be answered in another and better way, and he intimated that he would hereafter present a plan to effect the desired object. It was evident that he will not at present, favor the petition. I am not aware what views are entertained by Messrs Davis, Powell and Scroggins in relation to the matter, but it would seem that if such petitions as were mentioned by Col. Chapman shall be received from they will be in some sort compelled to answer them by supporting the proposition. The petition was referred to the Multnomah members.

Mr. Garrett presented a petition from several persons, male and female, of Clackamas county praying that the right of voting be conferred on the white women of the State above the age of twenty-one years. The petition was received at first with some merriment. One member, Mr. Gray, in his seat, moved that it be referred to the Phillips family—several of that name being signers of the petition. Another suggested that it be referred to the Committee on the Insane Asylum. Another moved its reference to the Judiciary. Two or three now seriously suggested that petitions from whatever source, on proper subjects should be treated respectfully, and especially in cases where the petitioners, as in this, are partly female. The petition was finally referred to the Committee on Elections.

AN ECONOMICAL PROPOSITION.

Mr. Waymire, who is the economical check on the Democratic side of the House, offered the following resolution: "That the committee of Ways and Means who desire to visit the Penitentiary to ascertain by examining the Gardner shackle so they may be the better prepared to determine the propriety of appropriating money for the purchase of the same, be allowed leave of absence on the 24th instant, to visit said Penitentiary, on foot, horseback or in a buggy, as to them may seem best, and at their own expense." On this there was a discussion of an hour or more. Grave and sedate and economic representatives made grave, ponderous and economic speeches. They wanted it understood that they were pledged to introduce reforms and retrenchments and that the eyes of the world were directed this way to see if they should fulfill their pledges. They wanted it distinctly understood that, if, in a moment of the weakness of pride, they should elect to ride in a buggy instead of taking their staves and going it on their own pedestrian muscle, they could not in their consciences allow the State Treasury to be thereby depleted a single dollar, not a dollar, sir! Mr. Cox, who claims that he is as economical as any other economical man, or as there is any sense in being, wanted the last clause of the resolution stricken out and to insert the words, "at the expense of the state." His magnanimity as a tax payer, was not, however, appreciated and the economic gentlemen had it all their own way. The committee, were by Legislative clemency granted permission to visit the Penitentiary "on foot, horseback or in a buggy as to them may seem best," and to pay their own bills. Problem: If the House spend $50 in discussing the proposition to save $5, how much the best of it did economy get?

INFORMATION WANTED.

Mr. Gilfrey offered a joint resolution directing the secretary to furnish an abstract statement of the number of convicts received at the Penitentiary since the State received the institution from the Territory, counties from which received, term of sentence of each, how many and when discharged, pardoned, died, commuted, escaped, sent to Insane asylum, etc., etc. Mr. Minto thought the report of the Superintendent contained all desirable information. Mr. Gilfrey thought not; he wanted to know all about the matter from first to last. Mr. Waymire couldn't see that the information sought would be of any value to anybody and as it would cost something to get it, he thought it not best to seek the information. Mr. Waymire's views were adopted by the house and the resolution was not.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.

Mr. Winston of Clackamas offered a resolution that the joint committee on the Insane Asylum have leave of absence to visit such places as from which propositions to keep the insane may be received, and that they be directed to examine the old Institute building at Salem and report upon the practicability of fitting it for a temporary asylum, and to travel at their own expense.

Mr. Cox was generously indignant at the proposition to travel at private expense and moved to amend so as to make expenses of such visits payable by the State. Here followed another long debate, in which the whole policy of the State concerning the keeping and treatment of the insane, was talked of, talked up, talked down, and talked around. Minto and Waymire sailed into the present and economic mode of taking care of the insane in such gallant style as to nearly silence every gun on the other side. Waymire said his experience as a builder warranted him in saying that with half the money now given to Hawthorne & Loryea for one year, the State could build a suitable house and keep the insane for one year. He did not care to have the Committee visit any place with a view to entering into another contract. It was time the State began to prepare for keeping the insane, on her own book. He laid about him very sharply, concerning the influences brought to bear to effect another contract, thought it a disgrace that common report should say members were caught with money, wine and women, or that it should be said any outside parties were running this Legislature. Mr. Minto referred to the matter in a similar way and said that if common report could be trusted, members were debauched last session into favoring the present contractors; that upon the visit of the Committee to Portland, men were drunk who were never before suspected of being intemperate, and seen to enter houses of ill fame, who at home had never been suspected of easy virtue. He related how one of the present contractors had approached him on his weak side—his weakness for sheep—and had offered to give him two "pups" of the shepherd breed, not as an inducement, but "on general principles."

Nobody seemed to care about entering the lists in behalf of renewing the contract with Hawthorne & Loryea, though Mr. White favored the proposition to visit Portland. The resolution was finally laid on the table.

VARIOUS OTHER MATTERS.

The message of the Governor as relates to the estate of Finice Caruthers, was referred to Judiciary Committee.

House concurred in Senate resolution to print 800 copies of the message and accompanying documents.

Bellinger offered a resolution which was adopted, to appoint a committee to inquire into the condition of the school fund and examine the books of the School Land Commissioners.

Minto's bill to give additional protection to fair grounds was passed.

The bill to amend law relating to oath of allegiance, was amended upon 2d reading so as to repeal the laws on that subject of 1862 and 1864. It will probably pass both houses in that shape.

A resolution was adopted directing Pilot Commissioners to report what are and what have been the fees of pilots.

I believe I sent you by telegraph, all the important transactions in the Senate.

The Blue Mountain Times learns that good placer diggings have recently been discovered in a fork of Canyon Creek, thirteen miles from Canyon city. Two new discoveries have also been made in Baker county not far from Auburn, which will undoubtedly become good camps in the spring. The absence of Indians and the dry season has been the means of developing a good deal of rich country in Grant and Baker counties.

There are four Grant Clubs in Union county.

ATLANTA, Sept. 22.—Two accounts of the riot at Camilla are received here, from Freedmen through Maj. Howard, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, and one from Sheriff Poore of Mitchell county. Maj. Howard says: Emanuel Justice, freedman, states that he left Camilla on the afternoon of the 19th. On the morning of that day he approached Camilla with Jno. Murphy, W. P. Pierce, candidates for Congress [illegible] ... About three hundred negroes [illegible] ... A column of negro men on foot between three and four hundred, attended by about twenty mounted outriders. At least one half, if not two thirds of them were armed with guns and most with pistols. The music was playing and the crowd was noisy and threatening in their conduct. Joseph Johnson, an intoxicated citizen, ordered the music to stop, but it did not and the column moved on. Johnson's gun was discharged but in an opposite direction from the procession. When the column fired a volley many at Johnson but mostly at Maples store, where six unarmed citizens were wounded. Immediately about 20 citizens sprang to arms and fired into the column by which two negroes were killed and an unknown number wounded. The negroes immediately broke to a thick cluster of timber a hundred yards north of the Court House. At this point there was an attempt made by Pierce to rally his routed forces. Citizens to the number of about thirty, part being mounted, made a charge and completely routed the whole force. Pierce flying to the woods and Murphy escaping in a buggy, on the road towards Albany. Several negroes were killed. From the best information we have, thirty or forty are wounded, all of whom have been properly cared for. The Sheriff goes on to express the regrets the citizens of Camilla entertain at the necessity which brought about the occurrence. The citizens still think it was their duty [illegible] of the Sheriff to break up the armed assemblage.

IT IS AN INVARIABLE LAW OF NATURE that every human being shall do those acts which he thinks will be most good to him, and that he shall avoid those acts which may occasion a loss to him or the family he is a member of. In conformity with that law, it is the duty of every person to purchase of Kohn & Fishel all the goods they may be in need of. The fair sex, who certainly are always most happy to comply with all things beneficial to themselves and families, should not fail to examine the fine and extensive stock of Kohn & Fishel, and they will confess their stock of Dry Goods to be of superior quality and at figures below other houses. Men more bold and less calculating than our fair ladies should be reminded that Kohn & Fishel, [illegible] are the leaders of fashion, the lowest in price, and no man should wear clothes unless they are purchased at Kohn & Fishel's, No 91 Front street.

FROM SALEM.—A friend writing from Salem sends the following in relation to the approaching State [illegible] took a stroll over the State Fair grounds this [illegible] and find things much improved since last year, [illegible] of new buildings, new stands, stalls and sho[illegible] most of them are of a more durable character tha[illegible] gallery of new seats is put up in [illegible] after one. The gallery of new seats is put up in [illegible] better style than the old shed formerly used, an[illegible] you can occupy a seat for a bit. They hav[illegible] lowered the price of season tickets to one dollar, [illegible] horse tamer has erected a fine circular building [illegible] exhibit that important art. The [illegible] Fair grounds [illegible] overhauled and repaired, the [illegible] is being overhauled and a new one built either way, [illegible] [illegible] in the vicinity of the judges stand. Dr. Kell[illegible] is fitting up a fine and large Restaurant, to seat tw[illegible] dred ladies and gentlemen. The Sisters of Charity [illegible] a hall one hundred feet long, on the Fair ground[illegible] will open a fair for the benefit of the Orphan A[illegible] (Catholic), producing a Fair within the Fair. [illegible] [illegible] some fine [illegible] Emigrant stock, and [illegible] comprise the present number in the stal[illegible] They are daily increasing. About twenty of th[illegible] are expected down from Albany on Sat[illegible] [illegible] are expected and some fine [illegible] quite a fine lot of sheep are here, and some fine [illegible] for the show are even now coming in. [illegible] the largest show by far ever held in the [illegible] property here have laid the sills for a new hotel, [illegible] 100x40 feet to be complete and [illegible] by [illegible] grounds. Also just outside the grounds, parti[illegible] next Fair. Also [illegible] an arena for a bear and cougar fight, [illegible] The P. T. Co. promise the Society to reduc[illegible] rates of fare on the river during Fair week, so as [illegible] to accommodate everybody who will accep[illegible] [illegible]. The political elements are quiet now [illegible] [illegible] told by a friend that this Legislature will las[illegible] forty days.

IMPROVING.—In going through the city [illegible] at every hand reminded of the rapid st[illegible] [illegible] is making toward the proportions of a large [illegible] extensive commercial interests. On all the bu[illegible] merchants were apparently busy, the [illegible] rolling of passing vehicles, and the crowds of p[illegible] [illegible] to and fro in pursuit of pleasure and busi[illegible] every indication of life and enterprise and [illegible] all parts of the city the hand of industry is eng[illegible] the erection of structures for the [illegible] of man. The sound of the [illegible] and tr[illegible] greet the ear continually, as the [illegible] of the [illegible] forward a portion of the great work that shall [illegible] a city prosperous and wealthy. We particular[illegible] noticed the numerous buildings for private resi[illegible] [illegible] purposes which have [illegible], and are [illegible] this [illegible]. All over town we can see signs of [illegible] structures of all [illegible], from the [illegible] cottage to the four story brick, being [illegible] [illegible] and no one who will take the [illegible] will doubt that 1868 will witness [illegible] improvement in our city than any previ[illegible] [illegible] steps in the legislation by our City Cou[illegible] and a proper appreciation of the [illegible] [illegible] investments by our men of [illegible] in the right start and tend much to [illegible] prosperity. That policy which requires a rapid [illegible] of all investments, is not always the best, [illegible] canals, good highways, and, in fact, all [illegible] enterprises, would languish under such a syst[illegible] that which springs up in a day, is far more lik[illegible] droop in an hour than what is the growth of ye[illegible] [illegible] persevering industry, and well guarded inter[illegible] are certain are the great basis of wealth and pros[illegible] in cities as well as nations.

[illegible]—The [illegible] some of the concomitants of the State F[illegible] [illegible] truly in regard to the [illegible] the last dollar that is carried upon the groun[illegible] says: "Circuses, negro [illegible], human monstrosities, lotteries, and [illegible] begging, and in fact every [illegible] have been practiced, and [illegible] will be [illegible] impossible for the officers of the [illegible] to [illegible] heterogeneous mass, to protect the [illegible] but they can in some [illegible] so much imposition. More crime [illegible] in one short week at that time than [illegible] Some at that time take their first [illegible] even of the other sex." [illegible] also adheres to his idea in regard to the [illegible] and speaks as follows: "We do not [illegible] one word of what we have said [illegible] saloon. It is [illegible] nearly opposite the Legislative Hall, and it flaunts vice and infamy right in the face of every [illegible] or woman who has occasion to visit [illegible] portion of town. It is a pest and a [illegible] to be abated. If law cannot do it, a mob ought [illegible] Brother Unionist you forget that there is every [illegible] in getting accustomed to such things, or that [illegible] probably leave when the Legislature adjourn[illegible] your soul [illegible]. "The hand of the righ[illegible] shall rule." After awhile we trust, [illegible] be done to remove the [illegible] the morals of Salem.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first [illegible] a weekly paper published at Ol[illegible], W. T. [illegible] devoted to the [illegible] It [illegible] by a committee of the [illegible] Territory. The number at hand is got up with [illegible] deal of taste, and [illegible] well. The editor in his salutatory says: "It [illegible] established principle in [illegible] that echo truth[illegible] returns whatever words or [illegible] so may this the child of [illegible] always return with [illegible] all the precious thoughts that may from time [illegible] be confided to its keeping. And like a little wal[illegible] [illegible] ched forth on the [illegible] look for it smooth waters and prosperous [illegible]

[illegible] MONARCH and A DEAD SHOT were [illegible] manner at the New Theatre last night. [illegible] theatre going citizens may have given but little [illegible] to the fact that the company now playing in [illegible] is not one made up of [illegible] or third [illegible] but one composed of talented ladies and [illegible] who rank high in their profession and [illegible] to be [illegible] by all who wish to retain the [illegible] in our [illegible] of a first class company. No [illegible] have been [illegible] by Messrs. Daniels & Co. to [illegible] the [illegible] one which will be well worthy the [illegible] public. To night the fine [illegible] of Still Waters Run Deep and the laughable farce of the Rough Diamond, will compose the entertainment.

[illegible].—While some of our [illegible] are "tearing down and [illegible]" to accommodate their capacities to the [illegible] rapidly improving city. [illegible] we notice [illegible] substantial frame warehouse lately erected by E. J. [illegible] & Co. Their extensive stock of everything in [illegible] line, which is [illegible] the demands of their business [illegible] more room, and in the [illegible] have built an addition to their storing room, and [illegible] yesterday, engaged in filling it from their large [illegible] of lately arrived goods.

CURIOUS.—On the records in the office of the A[illegible] [illegible] county, W. T., a specimen of legal lore is [illegible] which ought to be sent to Harper's Drawer. In [illegible] conveyance of land is embodied a bill of sale of some [illegible] and the description of the two kinds of prop[illegible] is rather funny. The following is a copy [illegible] portion of the records: "Also that certain lot of [illegible] on the Columbia bottom, bounded by land [illegible] by [illegible] and others. Also a white bull and [illegible] East of the meridian line."

FOR VICTORIA.—The George S. Wright sailed for Victoria yesterday morning. We did not obtain her [illegible] [illegible] The Active, for the [illegible] port, [illegible] o'clock in the afternoon with 175 tons of freight and following passengers: Capt. A. H. Nickerson, U. S. A., [illegible] Peterson, L. B. A., A. Hayne, Mrs. [illegible] and children, T. J. Nosland, Amos Aakins, J. Ormsby, [illegible] [illegible], A. Rebeaux, M. Juhl, George Holt, [illegible] Miss M. Reardon, Miss Laura Adair, John [illegible], F. O. Dwyer, Frank Picot and wife, [illegible], B. C. Bayeur, Geo. Cooper, M. Fox, and 9 in the steerage.

[illegible] TO-NIGHT.—The concert at the M. E. Church this evening will doubtless be an excellent one. [illegible] Choir, which comprises some of the [illegible] in the city, will be assisted by Mr. B[illegible] and [illegible] Grob, both of them well known in [illegible] The preparations for the concert have been [illegible] with much care, and the selection of [illegible] a judicious one. We hope the efforts of these [illegible] to furnish an interesting and intelligent entertainment will be fully appreciated by the public, and that a [illegible] house will greet them this evening.

THE TARGET EXCURSION.—The target excursion of the Washington Guard, Captain Mills, will take place to-day. [illegible] preparations have been made to accommodate the [illegible] of this favorite military company, and we doubt [illegible] it will be a very pleasant affair. The [illegible] will [illegible] the grounds at the White H[illegible], at ten o'clock [illegible]

NEW TRIAL.—Wm. Valentine, one of the parties al[illegible] to have been engaged in the row last [illegible] was fined fifty dollars by the Recorder last [illegible] yesterday granted a new trial, and after a re-hearing [illegible] the case it was taken under advisement by the Court [illegible] this morning at nine o'clock, when a decision will [illegible] given.

PERSONAL.—Messrs. Brinck and Welch, lately arrived [illegible] the East, and who are traveling on the Pacific to obtain a correct knowledge of its resources, called on us [illegible] They are well pleased with what they have [illegible] of Oregon.

[illegible] BROS., Merchant Tailors and Clothiers, corner of Front and Morrison streets, will close their place of business during the holiday, commencing at 6 o'clock this evening, and will re-open on Saturday at the same [illegible]

No cause for doubt that the most valuable medicine [illegible] its class on account of its adaptation to a wider range of diseases than any other preparation is DR. E COOPER'S UNIVERSAL MAGNETIC BALM. The greatest Family Medicine ever offered to the public.

Health brightens every prospect in Life.—You that are suffering with that dread disease Consumption, get a bottle of NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP. If one does not cure you, get another; give it a fair trial and it will surely have the desired effect.

Dazzling.—A few turns of the wrist, a piece of chamois leather, and a few grains of Electro-Silicon or Magic Brilliant are all that are required to make the dullest pewter shine with dazzling brilliance. Robinson & Co., sole agents for San Francisco, sell immense quantities of this wonderful substance which polishes everything from a gold bracelet to a tin pot.

I am now making amongst numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH the Improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr G W Cool's Patent, patented Dec 5, 186[illegible], the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it not only makes the plate double as strong and cleaner than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.

N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr. G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates can have it made out to them by applying to this office.

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his [illegible] seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Geo Alfred Townsend's Recollections of Miles O'Reilly

[From the Cleveland Leader]

ANECDOTES OF MILES O'REILLY

I have written nothing of Miles O'Reilly's death because it has been painful to grieve ones if within recollection of so much good fellowship, but to no better use than rest and obituary. Halpine was a man of this world in all things, with great flesh for his taste and vitality enough for a whole Irish fair. He was a splendid physical presence, tall, broad, becoming his clothes—a dragoon's head, a fine eyebrow strengthening up a large vacillating blue eye. Nature gave him a stutter to make more perfect in all other impressions his handsome Irish mouth [illegible]. Out of this fine body came delights too pleasant for its possessor but except in the patriotism of the the man there was not an American element. He was every inch a Milesian, the family stock was good but the nation was ineradicable.

As a literary man he was one of the most fluent in the world and I do not lament that he accomplished no more. For Halpine would probably never have done better things than he has left us. He had worked up the height of his temperament and that reflectiveness which alone improves genius he did not possess. His powers were momentary like his feelings. He forgave too quickly, too soon to benefit either his enemies, his friends or his own dignity. His politics were merely his indignations or his attachments. So far from being a magnetic influence, his magnetism lay in being kindled by other folks. Thus he won Bennett and Greeley together by being alternately the appreciator of either.

"Greeley is the greatest man in the world!" he said one day, bursting into my room. "George, I wish you would say so in an inside article this week. I have just had the most wonderful talk with him that has been had outside of Savage Landor. He talked precisely like Socrates. Now I am going off to see Bennett."

He came back after a while saying that after all Bennett was the great common sense head. Then he gave an imitation of Bennett's Scotch accent, and burst into his room to write a sonnet on "The old Lion of Fort Washington," as he called Bennett. In five minutes he was ready for a new impression. It was this splendid boyishness which made Halpine so lovely to everybody who got to know him in other than business relations. When Shillaber, the other day, wrote at the head of his poem "the boy is dead," I know the rare old Nestor knew what he uttered. And Halpine, superbly alive to his own character, wrote himself "The Boy Miles."

This impressibleness, from being a merely receptive quality, grew under Halpine's talent to be a positive power. He could throw himself into moods, as some actors are said to do with real, believing intensity, and writing on both sides of the same question in half a day was honest in the pro and the con. Thus he became a splendid man to employ in partisanship as a literary hand. Tammany Hall [illegible] so found out and hitched him to their plow and he made the furrows for their harvests. But they uniformly cheated him, except with praise, which to a poet is the only standard coin. At last John Y. Savage, one of the truest old men in any politics, advised Halpine of his ill-treatment, and proposed to him an independent Democratic movement. Then began Halpine's war on Tammany Hall, which lasted many years, till the sachems compromised with him upon the registership. In this warfare he was a very irregular worker, being over amiable, fond of short fights and long calumets, altogether too good for a politician. Some of us used to bully him up to the attack, and if he could turn one happy sentence his soul arose and carried him to the van.

As a specimen of how he composed songs, he [illegible] a dirty little note-book, one day, [illegible] a grocery account-book, and, [illegible] I found in the end of it his figures with a [illegible]. He had turned this book upside down and dedicated it to the muses.

"See here, George!" he said, "I'm going to make a poem of this that will be copied all over the United States. Yes I'll get Root to set it to music. Listen:

"Our love was the love of a moment,
We [illegible] at noon on her lawn!"

"Don't you see it all? We ride up to a Virginia mansion to water our horses. Of course, I'm a staff officer! I see this lady as I halt; her picture lives in my memory forever. I'm going to make that couplet the end of the song."

In this way he wrote verses, generally and going through the same note book I found all sorts of couplets lacking bodies—the souls of songs in storage—and he died with much of the music in him.

"By George!" he said, "just hear this. I've got the beginning, and that's always the whole trouble."

"Dry up, Halpine! Go finish it! If you [illegible] stanzas and I praise them, you will go around town all day showing it to people."

He felt this, I think, for it was rude enough and went into the other room, bolting the door, at my advice, to keep out politicians. I heard him fighting up the rhymes, walking up and down, scratching paper desperately, now and then crying over the partition to know a geographical or ethnological fact. In half an hour he came out excitedly.

"Well!" he said, "I have surprised myself. Let me read this any way."

"Is it quite finished?"

"Almost."

"I must hear it altogether. Besides I am at work!"

Then seeing him waver, I added. "They say, Halpine, that you can't write a whole poem at one sitting."

"If I don't do this one, you may shoot me."

He did complete the whole of that poem before he left the office. It was the Grand Army poem, fully equal to Gettysburg and about 200 lines long. Halpine was not as good a poet in the past six years as he had been before the great public had got to know him. His cry of "More Light," his "Chemisette," and several other early pieces, were written in the freshness of fancy and, perhaps, the sensitiveness of necessity. His epitaph might be

LUCK
[illegible] THE "BOY" AND THE POET,
"MILES."

I used to be amused to see him reprint from his book called "Poems by the Letter H" these old pieces, and the exchange papers announce a new poem by General Halpine. The only sad feeling I have about Halpine is that he whose poems on Anthony Burns and the "Flaunting Lie" electrified the country for good in the days when he was the rival of Whittier, and sung as strong and grand, should have published some ante mortem verses denying and bullying the negro because he had not rebelled and massacred during the war. This and "Sambo's right to be kilt" may future generations not translate them to be the spirit of our liberality to the negro.

When he wrote the Craven book about Jefferson Davis out of pure, earnest sympathy with Davis in bonds. His sympathy was the vital part of him. His masters in the art of poetical composition were Churchill and the satirists of the eighteenth century. He had a volume of Churchill in the editorial room and used to get the spirit of it before writing. He had impossible notions of himself, and seriously projected a huge history of the war. To a long poem I think he never aspired. His mind was vigorous all the time but not in continuity. There are many sweet poems of his that will live, his prose is useful only to explain the talent and the manner of the man.

I shall miss a good welcome when I go to New York again. I shall often, in fancy, ramble back as I say "how old am I?" over the tombstones of my friends to count the years, and stopping at Halpine's shall feel that God gave him the greatest of all talents, to be loved, and balanced it with the most doubtful of all successes, to be praised.

A Seymour demagogue recently got off the following in a speech at the town of Truckee, State of Nevada. Said he: "Rain is what we want. More rain, more fertility, more fertility, more corn, more corn, more whisky, more whisky, more Democrats." That is the frankest and most logical Democratic speech ever spoken.

EXTINGUISHER

SELF-ACTING FIRE ENGINE!

THIS INVENTION HAS FOR ITS OBJECT THE extinguishing of Fires in a more certain manner than has hitherto been discovered.

The advantages to be derived from the use of the EXTINGUISHER are as follows:

Every fire begins on a small scale, and its rapid and uncontrollable increase is owing to the fact that at the time of its commencement (when every moment's delay in checking it is of the utmost importance) no means are ready at hand.

The EXTINGUISHER is the only Engine that fills this requirement.

It is always ready for use, though standing unused for years.

It puts out Fire instantly.

It saves the great deluge of water now used for this purpose.

It is as effective in the hands of a Boy as the most experienced Fireman.

It is portable, and as easily handled as a bucket of water.

It possesses within itself the power of a force pump and as effective as a Steam Engine.

It is the only known invention that will put out Fires from Kerosene, Tar, Naphtaline, and combustible materials now in common use.

PRICE—No 1, $50, No 2, $55, No 3, $60.

TO ALL WHO ARE INTERESTED

IN THE TRIUMPH OF

REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES

THE "IRISH REPUBLIC" NEWSPAPER, PUBLISHED in New York City, is devoted to the promulgation of the principles of the Republican party. It is now engaged in a bitter and most active warfare with all the reactionary elements which have so long controlled the votes of adopted citizens of Irish birth. Its circulation and influence are being widely extended, but as in all such enterprises, the results are at once commensurate with the efforts at maintaining and extending that influence. The paper is a large and handsome Weekly, published at a subscription price of five dollars per annum. We propose to devote our columns to the great work of the pending campaign. We will send the Irish Republic for four months for $1 50 cents, in packages of ten and upwards.

Members of Congress and all who are interested in the triumph of Republican principles, will find the Republic an efficient campaign document.

PACIFIC TURBINE WATER WHEEL.

THESE WHEELS EXCEL ANY OTHER WHEEL in use, and are no infringement on the Leffel American Turbine, but excel it in every particular.

CAUTION

To all whom it may concern.—One A. Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel and he will prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the law. His statements are met with a denial. His game is "Bluff," which if he would only take the case to Court would soon be played out. Don't believe him.

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. The legal opinions of more reputable lawyers than Dodge & Munn and A. Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H. W. SHIPLEY
